Required Documentation

Most organizations are required to submit the following to demonstrate eligibility for exemption:

1. A completed application (Form REG-1E) signed and dated by an officer, trustee, or responsible party;
2. Determination of Exempt Status. Submit the most recent copy of an IRS determination letter establishing exemption from certain federal taxes under an IRC 501(c) code. Most organizations applying that are formed and organized exclusively for charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children and animals should have IRC 501(c)(3) exemption status;
 - a. As referenced in "Section L" of the line-by-line instructions, if your organization is a branch or chapter of a parent or central organization that has a group exemption that includes your organization, you must submit a copy of the parent or central organization's group exemption determination letter issued by the IRS. In addition, you must provide a letter issued by the parent or central organization stating that your organization is covered under its group exemption and is in good standing; or the listing issued to the IRS substantiating that your organization is one of the subordinate branches or chapters of the parent or central organization that the group exemption covers.

- b. Exceptions to the IRS 501(c)(3) determination letter requirement are for veterans' organizations; volunteer fire, rescue, first aid, and emergency companies; PTAs/PTOs and booster clubs (when associated with national organizations); public schools outside of New Jersey; and organizations organized and operated exclusively for religious purposes. Veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries may submit IRS 501(c)(19) determination letters, fire and emergency companies/squads may submit whatever 501(c) letter the IRS has issued.
3. Confirmation of Incorporation or Registration. Submit a copy of the Certificate of Incorporation or Public Filing Registration issued by your organization's home state showing the date they were filed and the date they were approved by an appropriate state authority. Include any amendments to formation documents;
4. If your organization is unincorporated, submit a copy of any official confirmed registration filed with your home state. Formation or other governing documents such as Articles of Association, Constitution, Charter, Trust Agreement, or Bylaws should be dated and signed by your organization's governing body or a responsible person;
5. A copy of your organization's formation/governing documents that show the organization is eligible for exempt status in New Jersey as referenced in the "Purpose of Documentation" section above. The required language may be included in the following types of documents;

Certificate of Incorporation
Articles of Incorporation
Articles of Association
Operating Agreement

Trust Agreement
Charter
Constitution
Bylaws*

* While an organization may contain several documents that contain the same required provisions, you do not have to send multiple documents if a single document contains all the required language demonstrating the requisite eligibility for exemption. For example, if your organization's Articles of Incorporation has all the necessary provisions, (including business purpose), you do not have to send a copy of the Bylaws. Bylaws are generally the internal rules and regulations of an organization. If including bylaws, send current copies, including any amendments.

Formation and governing documents must be presented as formal legal documents that are signed and dated by the appropriate officers or trustees of the governing body. The documents should not be in "draft" form and must be complete. Single pages copied from a larger document are not acceptable unless the entire document is exceptionally long (over 30 pages).

If possible, the requisite language should be identified in the document(s) by highlighting, underlining, placing asterisks, or other acceptable markings on the appropriate pages.

There are required provisions that must be included in your organizing document to be exempt in New Jersey. It must show the purpose as charitable, religious, educational, scientific, literary, etc., or a specific charitable purpose within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) or the documents will need to be amended. It must include a dissolution clause providing the dedication of your assets to a Section 501(c)(3) purpose. If your dissolution clause names a specific organization to receive the organization's assets upon dissolution, that organization must be exempt under Section 501(c)(3) or a qualified alternate recipient if the named organization is not exempt under Section 501(c)(3) at that time.

Example of an acceptable dissolution clause

Upon dissolution of the corporation and after paying or making provision for the payment of all the liabilities of the corporation, the board of trustees shall dispose of the remaining assets of the corporation exclusively for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of any future federal tax code), or shall distribute the same to the federal government or to a state or local government for a public purpose. Any such assets not so disposed of shall be disposed of by order of the Superior Court of the State of New Jersey in the judicial district where the principal office of the corporation is then located, exclusively for such purpose or to such organization organized and operated exclusively for such purposes as said court shall determine.

Your documents must also include exemption requirements for 501(c)(3) organizations.

Example of Provision 1

No part of the net earnings of the organization shall inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

Example of Provision 2

No substantial part of the activities of the organization is carrying on (political) propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation. Additionally, the organization does not participate or intervene in (including the publishing or distributing of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office.

If your documents do not contain this required language, please amend them before submitting your application.

6. Public schools from states other than New Jersey do not generally have IRS 501(c) letters. A public school from a state other than New Jersey should submit a copy of its letterhead, and in lieu of formation documents, may also submit a copy of a state charter or a sales tax exemption certificate/letter issued by its home state.
